19 January 2024

Dear Dame Glenys,

I am writing to inform you of my intention to bring forward a Defra revocation and reform Statutory Instrument (SI) which will revoke 73 obsolete and inoperable pieces of assimilated laws inherited from the EU, (previously known as retained EU law) that fall within Defra's policy responsibility.

This SI will follow on from the REUL Act revocation schedule which included 341 pieces of redundant Defra legislation, which many of your organisations provided feedback on at the time. Other Government departments, such as the Department for Business and Trade, are also bringing forward similar SIs (SI 2023/1143).

A list of the 73 items and the reason for revocation is attached and will be included as part of the Explanatory Memorandum that will be laid alongside the SI.

I have been assured by officials that as these items of REUL are redundant, they have no environmental impact. This is clarified through the 'purpose' and 'reason for revocation' detail in annexed table.

I would welcome your views on this list and would be grateful if you could send any feedback you might have on the items listed as being redundant to legislationandbetterregulationunit@defra.gov.uk by Friday 2 February.

Yours sincerely,

LORD DOUGLAS-MILLER

Annex - list of items of REUL that will be included in the Defra Central Revocation SI.
